

PS: translation.

First frame:

In the SHM (Historic Sanctuary of Machu Picchu), by the Vilcanota river, a happy otter walks by...

"Hello, I am a river otter, and my name is Lontra longicaudis"

Far from there

A very sad otter

"I feel sick and I'm very afraid, my home is changing a little bit"

Second frame:

They go together to investigate and they find out what happens...

Third frame:

Already knowing what is happening...

"We're going to die!! My home is full of garbage and water is polluted, we're going to die!!"

Fourth frame:

"Take it easy, there must be something to do. I've been told that there are people that are trying to help by taking care of us, in order to avoid our death. Look!"

The otter appears in the Appendix 1 of the CITES, in the Category II of the Red List of Endangered Species of the IUCN.